

Breaking the Cycle: Healing Begins

A HEART TRANSFORMATION WORKSHOP

Where Truth Meets Grace. A reflective journey through Scripture, honest self-discovery, and the transforming power of God's love — inviting your heart toward freedom and healing.

HEART
TRANSFORMATION
WORKSHOP

karol co
inner healing 202 trauma 2026

Opening Reflection

Psalm 147:3

"He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds."

— Psalm 147:3

Take a quiet moment to sit with this truth. Let it settle over you like a gentle breath.

If your heart could speak today, what would it say? Reflect quietly and write just one word on your paper. No sharing required — this is between you and God.

Breathe. Be still. You are safe here.

What Shaped Me?

Section 1

Psalm 139:23

"Search me, O God, and know my heart; test me and know my anxious thoughts."

How Our Experiences Shape Us

Our stories of love, silence, rejection, or neglect have shaped our hearts — but they do not have the final word.

Reflection Activity

Complete the sentence: "Growing up, I learned that..."
Then ask yourself: does that belief still hold true today?

A Gentle Reminder

You are not defined by what was done to you or left undone. God sees the full story and holds it with grace.

What Am I Still Carrying?

Section 2

Matthew 11:28

"Come to me, all who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest."

Pain is something we carry

Pain can feel like part of us — but it is something we carry, not who we are. You are not your wounds.

Reflection Activity

Write one word representing what you are carrying — fear, shame, anger, loneliness, guilt. Fold the paper and hold it in your hand.

A Gentle Reminder

What you carry today does not have to define your tomorrow. Healing begins when we bring our burdens to Him.

What Does God Say?

Section 3

"You are loved and chosen"

"You are forgiven and made new"

"You are a new creation in Christ"

The loudest voice in your life should be God's — not your past, not your pain, not the words others have spoken over you. 2 Corinthians 5:17 reminds us: "If anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; the old has gone, the new is here!"

Activity: On the back of your paper, write one truth God says about you. Examples: I am loved. I am forgiven. I am chosen. I am enough in Christ.

2 Corinthians 5:17

"He is a new creation — the old has gone, the new is here."

Section 4

What Will I Choose Today?

Joshua 24:15 — "Choose this day whom you will serve..."

Healing often begins with one honest decision made in God's presence.

Complete: "Today, with God's help, I choose..."

Every cycle of pain is broken by a moment of courageous choice. You do not need to have it all figured out — just one step, one surrender, one yes to God. Whether it is choosing to forgive, to ask for help, or to trust again, that decision opens the door to healing and a new beginning.

Quiet Moment of Prayer

Hold your paper over your heart.

"Father, You know every part of my story — the joys, the wounds, the questions, and the hopes. Thank You that You see me completely and love me fully.

Help me release what has weighed me down and receive the truth of who I am in You. Give me courage to take the next step toward healing and to become a source of hope for others. In Jesus' name, Amen."

Breaking the Cycle Workshop
Heart Transformation Series

Closing Blessing

My past may explain me, but it does not define me.

In Christ, healing is possible, hope is alive, and a new legacy can begin.

Carry this truth with you as you walk forward in grace and wholeness.

BREAKING THE CYCLE

The Heart of the Workshop
Four memorable truths:
My pain has a story.
My pain is not my identity.
God meets me in my pain.
Healing changes the generations that follow.

Final Blessing

Read together:

"The Lord bless you and keep you; the Lord make His face shine on you and be gracious to you; the Lord turn His face toward you and give you peace." — Numbers 6:24-26

A QUIET SPACE FOR
REFLECTION AND JOURNALING

Thank You & Reflection

Thank you for your openness and courage. May your heart continue to hear God's voice and walk in healing.
Take a quiet moment to reflect or journal. Let the seeds planted today take root in stillness and grace.

Breaking the Cycle
A Heart Transformation Workshop